The Permanence of Social Media

How will the internet and online community remember you?

Living on the Global Stage

There is no longer a distinct separation between our actions online and our in the “real world”.

How we interact and treat one another is no longer limited to our neighbourhood or community. We are now acting on a global stage.

Positive social interaction is more critical than ever...

Who Uses Social Media?

THE STATE OF THE INTERNET NOW!

The Internet is a strange, huge beast. It is getting bigger, faster and more mobile each day. Ferocious social networks fight each other to be on top and gain more of our attention and personal information. An entire economy is generated from our browsing habits. This is the face of the Internet now.

THE INTERNET WORLDWIDE

The Internet is considered so important that access is a legal right in countries like Finland, Spain and Estonia. Countries like Egypt and Turkmenistan on the contrary are Internet black-holes, as they are censoring it at a pervasive or substantial level. In terms of quality, all networks are not created equal.

What do students think about Social Media?

Do Our Youth...

- o Understand that what we do online has the ability to be seen by everyone
- o Understand that what we do online is permanent
- o Understand that there are real people behind avatars, tags, user names .gamer tags, handles, etc.?

There really is someone there

The expectation that what we say online is what we would say in person.

It is the policy of the Thames Valley District School Board (TVDSB) that both the system and its schools provide students with an opportunity to learn and develop in a safe and respectful school community. TVDSB schools have bullying prevention and intervention strategies which foster a positive learning and teaching environment that supports academic achievement for all students.

Bullying is a serious matter with wide-ranging ramifications for both individuals and schools in that:

- Bullying adversely affects a student's ability to learn.
- Bullying adversely affects healthy relationships and the school climate.
- Bullying adversely affects a school's ability to educate its students.
- Bullying adversely affects a school's ability to engage in school-related activities, on school buses, or while off school property where engaging in bullying is likely to have a negative impact on the school climate (eg. online).
- Bullying is one of the infractions for which suspension must be considered. (Refer to TVDSB Policy - Suspension of Students)

1.0 TVDSB commits to ensuring that:

- 1.1 students and other members of the school community are informed of the bullying prevention policy
- 1.2 procedures are in place for dealing with the range of bullying incidents that could affect the school environment
- 1.3 schools will be supported in the implementation of bullying prevention by providing programs and intervention strategies.
